LPPD Traffic Stop nets Missouri Felony Fugitive

Carol Sue Dalrymple 10/28/1986 of Anchorage, Alaska

In the late morning hours of November 4th, 2017 La Porte Police Department (LPPD) Patrol Officers made a traffic stop for an expired Texas Vehicle Registration in the 600 block of South Broadway, La Porte Texas. As a result of the traffic stop the suspect was found to have a Full Extradition, Felony Warrant out of Missouri. She was also charged with Fictitious Identification and Failure to Identify Fugitive, through the Harris County District Attorney's Office.

Shortly after making the traffic stop and receiving the vehicle information a LPPD dispatcher immediately recognized the vehicle as one suspected of being used in a previously reported forgery incident. In that case, a female suspect fled the scene in a vehicle matching the one stopped by LPPD Patrol Officers. The dispatcher conveyed the information to the patrol officers who continued their investigation into the female driver.

Once officers made contact with the driver she provided them with a fictitious driver's license. Officers questioned the suspect and were able to positively identify her as, Carol Sue Dalrymple 10/28/1986 of Anchorage, Alaska. Knowing she was going to be fingerprinted through the Automated Fingerprint Identification System (AFIS), she admitted to officers that she was a fugitive from Missouri.

After arrest and booking, Dalrymple was transferred to the Harris County Jail where she is being held with no bond and awaiting extradition proceedings.
